Launching of the Amored Steel
Cruiser New York

AT CRAMPS YARDS YESTERDAY.

Fifteen Thousand People See the Big
Battle Ship Glide into the Waters.
The Distinguished Guests Present.
A New York Lady Christens the Vessel—The Ship is the Especial
Pride of Secretary of the Navy
Tracy.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 2.—The U. S. armored cruiser New York was launched this afternoon from the yards of the Cramp ship building company in the presence of 15,000 people, included among whom were the secretaries of Navy, Treasury and Interior departments, United States senators, congressmen, high naval officials and representative business and professional men from all parts of the country. Miss Helen Page, daughter of J. Seaver Page, secretary of the Union League Club of New York, broke the traditional bottle of wine upon the great steel ram of the cruiser as she slid from her wooden cradle into the Delaware river, and christened her New York.

When the New York is finished she will be the most formidable cruising vessel that ever floated the stars and stripes, and in addition she is the largest signed and has been constructed with the view of the possibility of her engaging the most powerful vessels of her type abroad.

The main battery of the New York will be composed of six 8-inch and twelve 4-inch breech-loading rifles, and by comparing these guns with those of many of her type abroad, it will be observed that the guns of several of the foreign naval cruisers of about the same size as the New York are of heavier calibre. It is doubtful, however, the high manoeuvring qualities of the New York and her ability to choose the range of firing being considered, if in a light with such a vessel as the Imperieuse (8,400 tons), the heavier guns of the latter would prove of any marked advantage. The New York's battery would certainly give her chances which which are not to be despised should she be driven to a momentary encounter with a battle-ship. Fighting battle-ships, however, is now to be her business; she was designed and built to keep the sea and to destroy an enemy's commerce; and not only his commerce, but to put out of the way any commerce-destroyer that the enemy might send out. She is thus to be both a commerce protector and a commerce destroyer of the highest efficiency. Secretary Tracy has said: "Four such ships, distributed in various quarters, would put an effectual stop to the depredations of as many fleets of ordinary cruisers."

STEUENVILLE'S ATTITUDE

In Regard to the Disposition of the P. C. & St. L. Stock.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

STEUENVILLE, O., Dec. 2.—The city of Steubenville, through its Council, is wrestling with the question of the disposition of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati

A REGULAR BOOMER.

How Col. Alex. Campbell Impresses the Australians—His Work for the World's Fair.

The INTELLIGENCER is in receipt of a large budget of Australian papers containing accounts of the work of Col. Alex. Campbell in the Australian colonies in behalf of the World's Fair. It needs but a glance to convince one that the colonel is accomplishing great good, and if he does not succeed in persuading the Australasian governments to send a creditable exhibit to Chicago in 1893, it will not be because he has not received the united support of the newspapers. In a batch of a dozen papers received by the INTELLIGENCER yesterday ten have either lengthy interviews with the colonel or reports of speeches in behalf of the World's Fair delivered before the chambers of commerce or legislative bodies. Everywhere he goes he creates enthusiasm for the Columbian exhibition, and has excited the admiration of the Australians with his ability as a genuine American boomer.

The following extract from an editorial in the Melbourne, Australia, Evening Standard, will be appreciated by the colonel's friends in Wheeling, since it serves to show how his vim impresses at least one editor in that far off country:

"And a tiger for Colonel Campbell! Certain it is that ordinary British cheers are inadequate to his superlative merits, or—shall we say?—to his showman-like ability. Colonel Campbell comes to us from America—from Chicago, rather—comes with intent to infuse us with a little genuine Yankee vim and go; to expound to us, right away, what sort of a world-dicking show that of Chicago is to be, and how badly we shall be left if, through slowness or supineness, or folly of any sort, we neglect our opportunity to have a part therein. If to be associated with that which is great is in any sense to be great, then the opportunity Colonel Campbell offers ought surely to be earnestly and immediately espoused. For ever since the old Titanic days, or those contemporary perhaps when American Hiawatha warred with the elements, we have promised of such greatness as in the world's fair at Chicago. Listen to the gallant colonel, and stretch wide all the passages of quick apprehension that you may not be choked in the swelling. A hundred million people that is the beginning of it. It is near as difficult to understand as fifty thousand pipers. Fourteen thousand boarding houses next, and five thousand hotels! Thirty thousand men at work night and day on the grounds. If on eight-hour shifts, an equivalent of ninety thousand, and the opening day still eighteen months in the future. Did we really imagine we held international exhibitions in Australia? It was all a mistake. Our shows, by comparison with this, were but as penny booths at a fair to the glories of the Royal Opera. Still, like a brake on the wheel of fast-rolling imagination comes the reflection that Colonel Campbell is an American, and spread-eagleism comes as natural to him as stolid reserve to the Briton. "Bigger rivers, taller cataraacts, louder thunder, forked lightning and more money than all the world dare have," the true American always claimed; and true American and "of that ilk," Colonel Campbell, by his latest utterances, must certainly be classed. Still, if Colonel Campbell is hot as a fused lightning rod in the matter, are not we colder than the South Pole? And shall we not be looked on as outside the community of civilized peoples if we neglect what is, undoubtedly a great—perhaps an unprecedented—opportunity?"

THE TRAIN ROBBERY

At Glendale, Missouri, Developing into a
First-class Criminal Sensation.

PARIS, TEXAS, Dec. 2.—The through express which was robbed Monday night at Glendale, Mo., reached here at 11 o'clock last night. Express messenger Harrison who relieved messenger Mullen, says that as the run carried express matter to be distributed up and down the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis, the Fort Smith and Little Rock and all Texas matter the haul may run up into the hundreds of thousands. The run was a heavy one, as at this season southern banks are getting large sums for cotton payments. Conductor Joe Dauthett, in charge of the train, says the men were very deliberate, cool and had evidently planned out every detail.

St. Louis, Dec. 2.—The Adams Express company, it is now stated, will lose about $75,000 by the robbery of the Frisco night express car near Glendale Monday night by six masked men, and the bold hold up is rapidly developing into a criminal sensation of the first order. The safe of the express company was completely rifled. Although yesterday Superintendent Damsel placed the loss at $20,000, it is now known that the safe contained far more than that amount. Superintendent Damsel refuses to state the amount lost.

A Pertinent Question.
To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Sir:—Is it not possible that the reason for the change of position of the Register in regard to the Edison Heat, Light and Power Company is due to the fact that the suspects need protection?

Catarrh

Is a complaint so common that comparatively few people are entirely free from it, so insidious that it gains a firm hold almost before its victims are aware of its presence, so dangerous as to seriously threaten the general health, and liable to develop into bronchitis or Consumption.

It is a mistake to consider Catarrh merely a local trouble. It is unquestionably a disease of the blood, and therefore the right way to cure Catarrh is to remove from the blood the impurities which cause and feed it. This is to be done by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which effectually expels all traces of poison and germs of disease.

Catarrh

and have never received the least benefit from the many so-called catarrh cures. Of late I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and can honestly say that I am certainly improved. I know Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a good medicine.

"I have been troubled for years with Catarrh, and have never received the least benefit from the many so-called catarrh cures. Of late I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and can honestly say that I am certainly improved. I know Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a good medicine."

Stuffed-up Feeling.
"For years I have been troubled with that terrible disagreeable disease, Catarrh. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla with the very best results. It cured me of that continual, dropping in my throat, and stuffed-up feeling." Mrs. S. D. HAZEN, Putnam, Conn.
